

Business Profile

Ilia Kolochenko

Ilia Kolochenko has a university degree with honors in Mathematics and Computer Science from Geneva, the city where he grew up.

He started his career as a penetration tester, he was also a security expert and team leader working for various financial institutions and companies in Switzerland and abroad.

His military service took place in Swiss artillery troops. At the end of 2007 he founded High-Tech Bridge, aiming to deliver efficient and effective penetration testing to companies of all sizes.

In 2010 Ilia Kolochenko created a concept of hybrid security assessment of web applications, called ImmuniWeb, that was globally launched in 2014. Being a web application security expert and chief architect of ImmuniWeb, he is personally involved into ImmuniWeb's daily operations, implementing new features, functions and algorithms.

Ilia Kolochenko is a contributor to SC magazines, he is regularly quoted in leading IT security and business journals including WSJ, CNBC, Financial Times, and BBC. In 2016 he received "Forum des 100" award - 12th annual award of 100 entrepreneurs, politicians and personalities who build the French speaking part of Switzerland. Ilia Kolochenko is a member of Forbes Technology Council.